Dogmatic Constitution Lumen Gentium

The church is in Christ at the same time the sacrament, that means the sign and the tool for the most tender union with God like for the unity of the whole humanity.

Deus Caritas Est

The faith, the growing aware of the love of God which reveals itself by the pierced heart Jesus on the cross, generates love on his part. It is the light – in the end the only thing – that illuminates a world over and over again and gives us the courage to live and act. The love is possible, and we can do it, because we are created after God's picture. To realize the love and to let in the light of God in the world – that is what I would like to invite you with these circulars. (DCE 39).
